LCD VS. ePAPER SCREENS: What makes them different?

LCD—eReaders with LCD screens enhance your reading experience by displaying books and other media in full color. They also give you the freedom to interact with animated or video content, and they feature a backlit display for reading in the dark.

ePaper—Dedicated eReaders with ePaper screens read just like a printed book. They're lighter weight, have a longer battery life, and allow you to read in many lighting conditions, including bright sunlight with no glare. Like a paper book, you'll need a reading light when in the dark.
